CLAFLIN UNIVERSITY VALUE PROPOSITION STATEMENT

- I Claflin University maintains a strong regional and national academic reputation as evidenced by its recognition by national publications as a premier university that prepares graduates for quality job placement, increased graduate school acceptance, and workforce readiness in the region and beyond.
- II Claflin University, a "Best Value" institution, provides affordable and exceptional educational experiences for all students while maintaining higher student retention rates and shorter time for degree completion than the national average.
- III Claflin University prepares students for fulfilling careers with strategic focus on visionary leadership, confidence, adaptability and collaboration by providing structured experiential/applied learning experiences for all students.
- IV Claflin University has a strong record of educating minority students in the STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) disciplines. Students are mentored in cutting edge research by world-class faculty in labs located in a "core research" facility for the state of South Carolina as designated by the South Carolina Research Authority.
- V Claflin University offers undergraduate research opportunities that provide authentic and challenging learning experiences with renowned professors which increase readiness for and enrollment in "top" graduate and professional schools.
- VI Claflin University experience fosters global perspectives through strategic interactions with diverse student and faculty populations and consistent involvement with inclusive learning experiences designed for enhancement of cultural awareness and responsible citizenship.
- VII Claflin University offers a student-centered living and learning environment which provides opportunities for academic, social, cultural and spiritual growth.
- VIII Claflin University averages a faculty-student ratio of 1:13 which allows for smaller classes, active student engagement with positive faculty-student relationships in personalized teaching and learning settings.
- IX Student Success at Claflin University is characterized by persistence toward graduation, receipt of prestigious fellowships and scholarships, admission into competitive graduate and professional schools and recruitment by major companies and agencies.
- X Claflin University engages the resources of the "midlands" of South Carolina as a laboratory for service learning, internships, field experiences, clinical practice and part/full time employment.

CLAFLIN WELCOMES DR. DWAUN J. WARMACK

THE NINTH PRESIDENT OF CLAFLIN UNIVERSITY

DR. DWAUN J. WARMACK became the ninth president of Claflin University on August 1, 2019, after a national search. He joins the Claflin University family with an unmistakable humility, bold ambitions and unwavering commitment to lead South Carolina's first historically black college or university to higher levels of distinction among the nation's highly respected liberal arts institutions.

"I am honored to lead one of the nation's premier historically black college and universities (HBCUs) that has a tradition of producing visionary leaders and a proven track record devoted to student success," Warmack said. "My aspiration is to honor President Henry N. Tisdale's amazing legacy, by continuing the Claflin standard as a beacon of excellence in higher education for future generations. I am humbled by the opportunity afforded me to carry the torch and to continue the growth and development of Claflin University as a dynamic and powerful center of scholarship, research and education."

Dr. Warmack assumes the mantle of leadership at Claflin after serving the last five years as president of Harris-Stowe State University in St. Louis, Missouri. He brings more than 20 years of progressive administrative experience in higher education at five distinct higher education institutions.

Under Dr. Warmack's exemplary leadership, Harris-Stowe witnessed an institutional transformation, which was unparalleled in its 162-year history. He shepherded more than $24 million in external funding to the institution, including a $5 million STEM grant, the largest in the school's history. He cultivated more than 16 partnerships and collaborations with Fortune 500 companies, regional organizations, and other higher education institutions to strengthen Harris-Stowe's infrastructure.

Equally impressive, in the past five years under Dr. Warmack's leadership, Harris-Stowe State University became the fastest growing public university in the state of Missouri and has been recognized as a leader in graduating African Americans and other underrepresented groups with baccalaureate degrees. In addition, Harris-Stowe has witnessed a 34% increase in enrollment and applications to attend HSSU soared to more than 7,000 in 2019 compared to 667 in 2013. The Harris-Stowe student profile has grown stronger, representing 37 states and 17 countries. Additionally, as part of the institution's strategic plan that he spearheaded, the University embarked on an ambitious goal of expanding its academic offerings. As a result, degrees, minors, and certificate programs have increased from 14 to more than 50. These include expanding the liberal arts, business degrees and Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics disciplines (STEM).

As a result of Dr. Warmack's leadership in transforming the curricular and co-curricular enterprises at Harris-Stowe, the institution has been ranked regionally and nationally in various publications and online journals with U.S. News and World Report ranking Harris-Stowe as one of the best HBCUs and Midwest universities in the United States. His success at Harris-Stowe captured national acclaim cumulating with a front-page article in the Chronicle of Higher Education, features in the New York Times, the Detroit Free Press and appearances on CNN, Al Jazeera America, C-SPAN and NPR.

Prior to his appointment as president of Harris-Stowe, he served as the senior vice president of administration and student services at Bethune-Cookman University. Prior to that appointment, he was the associate dean of students at Rhodes College in Memphis, where he had oversight of Student Affairs and Administration including Judicial Affairs, Student Activities, Greek life, New Student and Parent Orientation and Multicultural Affairs. Dr. Warmack also has held positions at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C., and Delta State University.

He provides a brand of leadership that is characterized by an unqualified insistence on data driven decision-making and a commitment to higher education's current best practices. Considered to be a servant leader and visionary with a unique understanding and appreciation for today's Millennial and Generation Y students, he is committed to the academic integration and holistic development of students.

Dr. Warmack is committed to developing programs that promote diversity, pluralism and cultural competency. Throughout his career, he has championed inclusion, academic excellence and the retention of underrepresented students. Over the years, he has presented more than 120 diversity and leadership presentations and workshops to an array of individuals and groups. He was recently selected as an Eisenhower Fellow, a highly selective and worldwide competitive fellowship.

Dr. Warmack earned a bachelor's degree in education and master's degree in sociology from Delta State University. He earned his doctoral degree in educational leadership with a specialization in higher education from Union University in Jackson, Tennessee. He completed post-doctoral work in educational leadership at Harvard University School of Education. Dr. Warmack is married to LaKisha Warmack and they have one daughter, Morgan.

Clafin University students provide leadership in events and activities that improve the lives of residents of the community.

LEAL & LOYAL

ALMA MATER

When the sun of Carolina
Mounts the eastern sky
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,
On the hilltop high.

When the evening twilight deepens
And the shadows fall,
Linger long the golden sunbeams,
O'er the western wall.

When the shades of night shall gather,
Dark the heart may be,
Still the rays of youth and love,
Shall linger long o'er thee.

CHORUS

Orange, Maroon, float for aye
Claflin fair o'er thee,
*May we all be leal and loyal
To thy memory

Words: Etta Butler Rowe

Revised by Isaiah McGee, 2014

*original text "May thy sons be leal and loyal"
